

NEWSLETTER

17 December 2012

If you have questions or would like additional information, Please contact us:

Athina Boardman
Commercial Director
+65 8404 4620
athina.boardman@sanagallery.com

Ophélie Guillerot
Gallery Manager
+65 9716 2294
ophelie.guillerot@sanagallery.com

Assaad Razzouk
Founder
+65 8328 4162
assaad.razzouk@sanagallery.com

ORDINARY LIVES: WOMEN OF THE MIDDLE EAST 5 DECEMBER 2012- 27 JANUARY 2013

Dear friends,

Thank you very much for attending Rania Matar's exhibition talk & cocktail.

For those of you who couldn't make it, Rania

Matar's exhibition will be open until 27 January 2013, with a two week break for Christmas from 23 December 2012 to 9 January 2013.

Season's Greetings and Best Wishes for 2013 from all of us at Sana Gallery.

Warmly,

Sana Gallery

Click here to see our website

Follow Sana Gallery on Twitter

Like Sana Gallery on Facebook

DECEMBER REVIEWS

Our current exhibition "Ordinary Lives: Women of the Middle East", and artist Rania Matar have now been featured in some prestigious daily media and specialized magazines

Please find below the links to some of these great reviews in Bloomberg, in the STRAITS TIMES, in ArtClvb, by The Middle East Institute, Washington, DC, in Insiderei, by the Middle East Institute- National University of Singapore, Singapore.

See the video of Rania Matar by Robin Stienberg from the National Critics Choice and Sana Gallery's feature on MBC TV.

Rania Matar's book A girl in her room has also been selected as one of the best books of 2012 by the photo-eye Magazine and by Feature Shoot.

South-East Asia's First Middle Eastern Contemporary Art Gallery